

The most important thing about Science is being curious

We observe

We question

We hypothesise and investigate

And we gain knowledge of the workings of the world around us

But the most important thing about Science is being curious

Science Progression Ladder